BISHOP'S LETTER - The latest health advice from the Government, dated 31st August 2021, is that First Holy Communion and Confirmation ceremonies may proceed from Monday 6th September. From that date the number of participants at religious ceremonies will be 50% of the church's capacity. The number of guests at a wedding remains at 100 during September.

As the vaccination programme for younger people continues, side by side with large numbers of infections, it is important to maintain the current high standard of safety in our churches. Social distancing, face coverings, hand sanitisers, one way systems, omitting the handshake as a sign of peace and communion on the hand, continue as protective factors.

Francis Duffy, Bishop of Ardagh & Clonmacnois

Starting afresh

It will be hard going for the Church... It will make her poor and cause her to become the Church of the meek... But when the trial of this sifting is past, a great power will flow from a more spiritualised and simplified Church. Men in a totally planned world will find themselves unspeakably lonely. If they have completely lost sight of God, they will feel the whole horror of their poverty. Then they will discover the little flock of believers as something wholly new. They will discover it as a hope that is meant for them, an answer for which they have always been searching in secret. Pope Benedict

23rd SUNDAY OF THE YEAR

'He makes the deaf hear and the dumb speak'

Today Jesus encounters and heals a deaf man who also has an impediment in his speech. The Lord's gesture reminds us that the gifts of hearing and speech are among God's greatest gifts, and are closely connected. Many talk, but few actually listen. Research has found that we only listen at twenty five per cent of our capacity. If we do listen, it is most often with the intent to reply, not to understand. One of the most sincere forms of respect is to listen to what another has to say. The esteemed German theologian, Paul Tillich went so far as to say that 'the first duty of love is to listen'. It is interesting to note that the words 'listen' and 'silent' are composed of the same letters! We would do well, then, to heed the wisdom of the Turkish proverb: 'listen a thousand times and speak once'. In that way, we will be more likely to use the precious gift of speech to lift-up, not to tear down; to heal, not to wound; to help not to hurt. At a recent audience in Rome, Pope Francis concluded his remarks on the theme of listening with a beautiful prayer: 'May the Lord give us the grace to discern when we should speak and when we should stay silent'.
